1293 SIR THOMAS MORE, Expositio Fidelis de Morte D. Thomæ Mori et quorundam aliorum insignium virorum Angliæ, A VERY RARE TRACT, fine copy, Antverp. 1536

 This is a very curious and interesting volume. It contains some interesting Anecdotes respecting the Persecution and Decapitation of Bp. Fisher. But there is an asseveration made respecting Sir T. More, which for the honour of the country, I trust, is a gratuitous calumny of the Catholic Writer. It is stated, that when Fisher was decapitated, his head retained its natural healthy appearance, and the populace tumultuously assembled in expectation of being addressed by the Martyr "quod in quibusdam martyribus factum legimus. "At veriti ne idem eveniret in capite Mori priusquam exponeretur, aqua ferventi decoctum est, quo plus haberet horroris."

1643 Osorius Bishop of Arcoburge in Portugale's Epistle to the most Excellent Princesse Elizabeth Queen of England, translated by Shacklock, part of the bottom margins of a few leaves cut off, - - Antwerp. 1565

 This was written by the Bishop to persuade Queen Elizabeth to turn Catholic. Strype gives an account of it in his Annals, vol. 1, p. 451 and 452, and says, "to make it still more common, it was translated into French and printed in France. This gave great offence." Strype appears not to have known this English Translation.

 This most curious and interesting Oration opens with expressing the consternation of the Church at the death of Queen Mary, " Eâ mortua in luctu et squallore est Ecclesia;" it touches, with a delicate and masterly hand, the circumstances attending the affiance of Catharine of Arragon to Prince Arthur, her subsequent marriage to Henry VIII. and Divorce, and then takes a most able review of English affairs from Henry VIII. to the death of Queen Mary, with particular remarks on the conduct of the Duke of Norfolk, Duke of Northumberland, the Protector Somerset, and Lord Pembroke.

 "All the original Editions of the Comedies of Aretino are most rare," says Mazzuchelli, "but the Filosofo is much rarer than all the rest." "Questa è piu rara ancora dall' altre." Its excessive rarity was indeed strongly attested even in the XVIth Century. When the Comedies of Aretino were collected in 1588, the Filosofo was not included. "The omission," says the Editor, "may appear extraordinary, but after the most diligent search I could not meet with a copy." Vi parera peraventura strano, che questo non v' habbia data anchora l' altra, cio e il Philosopho, il che non è proceduto d' altro, che dal non haverla giammai potuta ricoverare. See Preface to the Quattro Comedie del Aretino (No. 32 of this Catalogue.) He promises, however, if he should be able at any future period to discover a copy, he would reprint it with Aretino's Tragedy of Hortensia; as he did not fulfil his engagement, we may fairly conclude that he was unable to procure the sight of the Comedy, even after this public announcement of his wishes.

926 CHARLES THE SECOND'S PROCLAMATIONS.—A most curious, interesting, and extensive Collection of the Proclamations issued by Charles the Second, from his Accession, to 9 Dec. 1684, Chronologically arranged.

 This Collection of the Proclamations of Charles the Second, forms a most curious illustration of an interesting and important period of our History. "The Satires, and the Comedies of the age, (says Mr. D'Israeli have been consulted by the Historian of our manners, and the features of the times have been traced from these amusing records of folly. Daines Barrington enlarged this field of domestic history, in his very entertaining "Observations on the Statutes." ANOTHER SOURCE, WHICH TO ME SEEMS NOT TO HAVE BEEN EXPLORED, IS THE PROCLAMATIONS, which have frequently issued from our Sovereigns, and were produced by the exigences of the times."

The volume opens with a Proclamation of the Council of State, promising to pay the arrears of the Army.' Then follows the Proclamation of the Accession of Charles II. by "Order of the Commons," dated May 8, 1660. Next, "A Proclamation against Vicious, Debauched, and Prophane Persons, by the King." The contents are highly curious. "There are likewise another sort of men, of whom we have heard much, and are sufficiently ashamed, who spend their times in Taverns, Tipling Houses, and Debauches, giving no other evidence of their affection to us but in drinking our Health," &c. &c, we do declare, that we will not exercise just severity against any Malefactors sooner than against men of dissolute, debauched, and prophane Lives, with what parts soever they may be otherwise qualified and endowed." Charles was a Profligate, but no hypocrite; and one can almost fancy him winking to Lord Rochester, when "The Moral Clarendon" or the Secretary of State, presented this Proclamation for his signature.—Proclamation against the Rebels of Ireland.—"For Quieting Possessions." "To summons the Persons therein named who sate, gave Judgement, and assisted in that horrid and detestable Murder of his Majesties Royal Father, &c. under pain of being excepted from Pardon." "BY THE KING. A PROCLAMATION FOR CALLING IN AND SUPPRESSING TWO BOOKS WRITTEN BY JOHN MILTON, AND ALSO A THIRD BY GOODWIN," "and whereas the said John Milton and John Goodwin, are both fled, or so obscure themselves, that no endeavours used for their apprehension can take effect, whereby they might be brought to Legal Tryal, and deservedly receive condigne Punishment for their Treasons and Offences." " Against Fighting of Duells." " For the Apprehension of Ludlow." " For suppressing disorderly Meetings in Taverns and Tipling Houses and forbidding Footmen to wear swords." " To Restrain the abuses of Hackney Coaches in London and Westminster." " For a Fast on account of an apprehended Famine, Jan. 8, 1661." " Against Seditious Meetings under pretence of Religion, 1660. " For Quieting the Post-Mastar General in the Execution of his Office, Jan. 16, 1660." " For prohibiting the seizing of Persons or searching Houses without Warrant." Proclamation " For Observation of 30 Jan. as a day of Fast and Humiliation." For Restraint of Killing, Dressing and Eating of Flesh in Lent or Fish Days." " Butchers shall kill no flesh " to the end that Fishermen may employ themselves at Sea with better encouragement." The whole Proclamation is very curious and interesting. " His Majesty's Pleasure touching his Coronation." " Touching the Accompt of all excepted in the Act of Oblivion, 20 March, 1660." Regulations for his Majesties Proceeding from the Tower to Whitehall, the day before the Coronation." " His Majesties Coronation Pardon. April 23, 1661." " For the Inlargement of Quakers." For suppressing Rogues, Vagabonds, &c." " For the observation of May 29, as a Thanksgiving." " Against Exportation and Buying and Selling Gold and Silver higher than in our Mint, June 10, 1661." " To Restrain excessive Carriages in Waggons, to the destruction of the Highways." " Concerning Building in and about London and Westminster." A very curious Proclamation, complaining whole Towns and Boroughs are unpeopled by People flocking to London and Westminster, with Regulations for the Buildings, &c. &c. " The rate at which Gold shall be current in Payment, and to prohibite the Transportation." " For the calling in the Money of the Commonwealth." " Concerning Wales." " To Prohibit divers Foreign Wares, and the Excess of Gilding of Coaches and Chariots." " For the Prices of Victuals within the Verge of his Majesties Household." " For the better ordering of those who repair to Court for the Cure of the King's Evill." " For the Reprinting and Using a Book called God and the King." " Commanding Jesuites and Popish Priestes to depart the Kingdome." For the Apprehension of Lord Bristol. " For Regulating the Measure and Prices of Coals." " For taking away any restraint on the Price of Coals." " Prohibitting Barnwell Fair, near Cambridge." Prohibiting St. James's Fair, Bristol." " Removing the Exchequer from Westminster to Nonsuch on on Account of the Plague." PROHIBITING BARTHOLOMEW FAIR and Sturbridge Fair, at our Court of Salisbury, Aug. 7, 1665. Prohibiting Howden Fair in Yorkshire, and Wanting Faire in Berks. Prohibiting the Mart at Boston. "Prohibiting St. Paul's Fair, Bristol."

I have selected these Proclamations in glancing over about the first half of the Volume. The limits of a Sale Catalogue will not permit me to proceed further.

As Royal Proclamations are usually pasted upon walls and dilapidated Houses, they generally perish with the occasion which gives rise to them. The Proclamation against Milton is of excessive rarity, and its interest must be duly appreciated by every Englishman. The whole is paged, and enriched with a Manuscript Index.

1148 QUEEN MARY. Antonii Guidi Oratio in Funere Mariæ Britanniæ Reginæ ad Cardinales Regumque et Rerum Publicarum legatos Romæ Habita VIII. Id. Martii, 1559, EXTREMELY RARE, Romæ, ex Officina Salviani.

 This most curious and interesting Oration opens with expressing the consternation of the Church at the Death of Queen Mary, "Eâ mortuâ in luctu et squallore est Ecclesia," it touches with a delicate and masterly hand upon the circumstances attending the affiance of Catherine of Arragon to Prince Arthur, her subsequent marriage to Henry VIII. and Divorce; then takes a most able review of English Affairs from Henry VIII. to the death of Queen Mary, with particular remarks on the conduct of the Duke of Norfolk, Duke of Northumberland, the Protector Somerset, and Lord Pembroke; also an account of Sir T. Wyatt's Rebellion. This copy was obtained by Lord Guilford from the Jesuits' Library at Colonna.

1151 Queen Mary, and the Revival of Popery in England. Il Felicissimo Ritorno dei Regno d'Inghilterra alla Catholica Unione, et alla Obedientia della Sede Apostolica, with the Pope's arms engraved on the title; those of England and Cardinal Pole below them. On three leaves part of the top line is cut off, Romæ, 1554. Lettere del Re d'Inghilterra e del Card. Polo al Papa Julio III. sopra la reduttione di quel Regno alla Unione della Santa Madre Chiesa, et Obedienza dalla Sede Apostolica.

 These two Tracts published at Rome on the accession of Queen Mary are both extremely rare; the second concludes with the Pope's absolution of England from heresy.

1152 Henry the Second of France, De Adventu Henrici Valesii Christianissimi Francorum Regis in Metropolim Regni sui Lutetiam Parisiorum Oratio habita à Nobilissimo et Generosissimo Juvene Joanne Steuarto Scoto, extremely rare, - - Par. 1549

 I cannot find any account of John Stuart, the Author of this very rare and curious Tract. We learn from the title, that he was a Scotchman of a noble family. Dempster in his "Apparatus ad Historiam Scoticam" puts an Asterisk against his name, which denotes, that he had drawn up an Account of him amongst his Manuscripts. Mackenzie promises to give his Life in his second volume, but, I suppose, could not obtain materials. It appears from this curious Tract, that the post of honor was assigned to the Scotch in Henry II's Triumphal entry into Paris: Marshal Montmorency Constable of France carried the Sword of State. "Exinde Regius Equus sine sessore pretiossimis phaleris et ornamentis vestitus, tum Rex ipse veste equitabat damasceno conopæo subjectus, et Viginti Quatuor Scotis Custodibus Undique Stipatus, quem multi Principes regii sanguinis affinitate conjuncti proxime contingebant." The whole description is extremely interesting.

1153 Mureti ad Pium IV Pont. Max. Oratio, Francisci II. Galliæ et Scotiæ Regis Nomine habita. The original edition, very scarce, Romæ, apud Bladum. 1560

 Ruhnken appears not to have seen the original edition, as he omits "Et Scotiæ Regis" in the title of the Oration.

1157 THE GOSPELS of the fower Evangelists, translated in the old Saxons tyme, out of Latin into the vulgare tounge of the Saxons, newly collected out of the Auncient Monumentes of the sayd Saxons, by John Foxe, Saxon and English, VERY RARE, fine copy, gilt leaves, Printed by Daye, 1571

 This Saxon Version of the Gospels is dedicated to Queen Elizabeth, but Foxe himself tells us in his Preface, that "we are beholden to Matthew (Parker,) Archbp. of Canterbury, a cheefe and a famous trauiller in thys Church of England, by whose industrious diligence, this booke, with others moe, and searched one of Saxon Monumētes." Strype says the Archbp. "made Day the Printer to cut the Saxon types in brass; who was the first person that did it."

Romæ, apud Antonium Bladum Asulanum.

 This is a most important Book from its connection with the Ecclesiastical History of the country. Henry VIII. was alarmed at the receipt of a copy, though Pole promised not to publish it. See Biographia Britannica. Henry ordered Archbp. Cranmer and the Bishops to draw up an Answer to it. Latimer preached against it. See Strype. Henry first endeavoured to inveigle Pole into England, to explain to him the doctrine of the Pope's Supremacy, and, failing in this, offered 50,000 crowns for his head, caused his Brothers to be arrested and executed. The Pope considered Pole in imminent danger from Henry's Emissaries, and ordered a guard for the Protection of his Person. Such is the very great rarity of the Book, that Harley Earl of Oxford could never obtain a copy, but was obliged to content himself with the reprint in Mary's reign. His late Majesty's Library, rich in every department connected with the Civil and Ecclesiastical History of the country, does not possess a copy. There is not one in the British Museum. This Edition is not mentioned by Dr. Dibdin in his Library Companion, nor by Debure, Brunet, or Adam Clarke. This copy was obtained from Cardinal Imperial's Library.

"Prima Romæ per Anton. Bladum Asulanum in fol. anno non indicato prodiit (says Vogt,) ab ipso tamen autore postea fuit suppressa. Unde factum est, ut hæc editio libris omnium rarissimis annumeranda sit, et vel in ipsis instructissimis Principum Bibliothecis desideretur."

1218 Ciceronis Consolatio Liber, quo se ipsum de Filiæ Morte Consolatus est; nunc Primum Repertus et in Lucem Editus (à Sigonio,) FIRST EDITION, VERY RARE. Ven. 1583

 This is the celebrated Tract, which caused so much controversy in the literary world on it's publication. Sigonius asserted, that he published it from a recently discovered Manuscript of Cicero; Ricoboni and Lipsius impugned it's genuineness, which Sigonius stoutly defended, and is said to have died from a chagrin caused by the controversy.

 This is particularly interesting to the English Collector, being the Original of Palsgrave's Translation published in 1540. "There are only 39 Plays (exclusive of Mysteries, Moralities, and Versions of the Classics) now extant, says Malone, published before or in 1592, when Shakspeare commenced Dramatic Writer. The very first in his List is Palsgrave's Translation of Acolastus. At the long interval of eleven years followed Ferrex and Porrex.

1378 Tasso, Gerusalemme Conquistata, FIRST EDITION, A PRESENTATION COPY FROM TASSO, WITH A MS. COPY OF VERSES ADDRESSED TO HIS FRIEND RESCIO IN HIS OWN HAND WRITING, - - Roma, 1593

 This is a most curious and interesting volume. The friendship and affectionate intercourse which subsisted between Tasso and Rescio, Ambassador from the King of Poland to Naples, may be seen in Serassi's Life of Tasso. The Ottava on the fly leaf, addressed by the Poet to Rescio, will be viewed with deep emotion by every one who entertains a just reverence for true Poetic genius. It is written with a feeble and tremulous hand, "deficiente manu." These Verses in all probability contain the last strains of the Dying Swan of Italy: they have never been printed. Tasso seems to doubt whether he shall ever reach Rome. Rescio has written "ab Auctore Neapoli, 1595." Tasso died at Rome, April 5, 1595. The Portrait of Tasso appeared for the first time in this edition.

1434 TASSO GERUSALEMME LIBERATA. THE AUTOGRAPH MANUSCRIPT OF TASSO WITH SOME ALTERATIONS OF VERSES IN THE MARGIN, LIKEWISE IN THE HAND WRITING OF TASSO. THE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT OF THE GREATEST EPIC POEM WHICH ITALY HAS PRODUCED. Most fairly and legibly written.

 This inestimable volume in the hand writing of Tasso himself, was formerly in the possession of the learned Baruffaldi, and is described by him in Vol. 1, p. 331, of the Works of that great Poet, printed at Florence in 1724, in 6 vol. folio, and also by Srassi, P. II. of the Catalogue annexed to his Life of Tasso, Bergamo, 1790. Serassi calls this PREGEVOLISSIMO MANOSCRITTO ORIGINALE DEL TASSO. He gives some interesting specimens of the variations between the verses printed from the margins, and those originally written in the Text. He says, the Ms. formerly belonged to Baruffaldi, but expresses his fears that it had been taken out of Italy.

This is perhaps the greatest literary Curiosity which has been sold for many years. "By the general consent of Critics, the first praise of genius, says Johnson, is due to the writer of an Epic Poem, as it requires an assemblage of all the powers which are singly sufficient for other compositions." Only Four Epic Poets of the First Class have been recognized by universal suffrage, Homer, Virgil, Tasso, and Milton

"Magnanimi Heroes nati melioribus annis."

The kindest expressions we can use to the next most Legitimate Aspirant, are the words of Statius.

"Tu longe sequere, et vestigia semper adora."

Ferrara justly boasts and shews to every Traveller the Inkstand of Ariosto. I would not wish to hurt the Honest Pride of an Italian; but the Works of a great Genius are the property of all ages and all countries, and I hope it will be recorded to future ages, that England possesses THE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT OF ONE OF THE FOUR GREATEST EPIC POEMS WHICH THE WORLD HAS PRODUCED, AND, BEYOND ALL DOUBT, THE ONLY ONE OF THE FOUR NOW IN EXISTENCE.

279 Bosci, Floriacensis Vetus Bibliotheca Benedictina, very scarce, - - - Lugd. 1605

 The contents of this curious volume have been singularly overlooked by the generality of English Antiquaries. It contains many things relative to English History. Among others, A Life of Gildas the Wise, the most antient British Author, "ex vetustissimis Floriacensibus Membranis." All the Biographers of Gildas, down to Mr. Chalmers, (except Leland, who is admitted to have confounded him, in this instance, with another Gildas) have stated that the place of his interment was unknown. The place and church are here given.

385 SPANISH ARMADA. Picchæ Oratio ad Sixtum V. aliosque Christianos Principes et Respublicas Pro Britannico Bello indicendo, VERY RARE, - Romæ, 1588

 This is a most curious and interesting Tract. Every argument that could animate or inflame the feelings of the Catholics of all Europe in favour of the Armada are adduced. The sufferings of the English Catholics are pourtrayed in glowing terms. The tortures, agonies and sufferings of the Catholics are worse than those endured in the Brazen Bull of Phalaris, &c. &c. And all these emanate from a woman "in Christiano olim regno enutrita," who now exceeds in tyranny and oppression Mezentius, Procrustes, Nero or Tiberius. Though Emperors, Kings, and Cardinals bow to the authority of the Pope, Elizabeth only considers him "Homunculus." Senex Imbellis," &c. Much reliance is placed on the influence of Cardinal Allen, and the bravery of the Duke of Parma.

589 Reginaldi Poli, Cardinalis Britanni, ad Henricum Octavum Britanniæ Regem, Pro Ecclesiasticæ Unitatis Defensione, Libri Quatuor, first edition excessively rare,
Romæ, apud Antonium Bladum Asulanum.

 This is a most important Book from its connection with the Ecclesiastical History of the country. Henry VIII. was alarmed at the receipt of a copy, though Pole promised not to publish it. See Biographia Britannica. Henry ordered Archbishop Cranmer and the Bishops to draw up an Answer to it. Latimer preached against it. See Strype. Henry first endeavoured to inveigle Pole into England, to explain to him the doctrine of the Pope's Supremacy, and, failing in this, offered 50,000 crowns for his head, caused his Brothers to be arrested and executed. The Pope considered Pole in imminent danger from Henry's Emissaries, and ordered a guard for the protection of his person. Such is the very great rarity of the book, that Harley, Earl of Oxford, could never obtain a copy, but was obliged to content himself with the reprint in Mary's reign. His late Majesty's Library, rich in every department connected with the Civil and Ecclesiastical History of the country, does not possess a copy. There is not one in the British Museum. This Edition is not mentioned by Dr. Dibdin in his Library Companion, nor by Debure, Brunet, or Adam Clarke.

"Prima Romæ per Anton. Bladum Asulanum in fol. anno non indicato prodiit (says Vogt,) ab ipso tamen autore postea fuit suppressa. Unde factum est, ut hæc editio libris omnium rarissimis annumeranda sit, et vel in ipsis instructissimis Principum Bibliothecis desideretur."

 The author dedicates his Work to his Diocesan. He says in his address that he made his tour in 1436.

644 Evangelia Quatuor Græce. A most splendid and magnificent Manuscript of the XIth Century, upon vellum, written in fine bold characters. To each of the Gospels is prefixed a portrait of its author, painted on a ground of gold.

 This is believed to be the most antient, valuable, and splendid manuscript of the Gospels in Greek, ever submitted to Public Sale in this country. Porson has observed that Greek Manuscripts of the XIth Century equal in rarity Latin Manuscripts of the IXth. This venerable manuscript of the Greek Gospels would be an invaluable acquisition to the Collector, and form one of the brightest ornaments in any library, public or private, in this Kingdom.

645 Evangelistarium Græcum. This Grand Manuscript is written in fine bold flowing characters, apparently in the early part or middle of the XIIth. Century. It is unfortunately somewhat imperfect, and the front margins of several leaves are damaged. It is however a very important manuscript.

646 Symeonis Metaphrastis Martyrologium sive Vitæ Sanctorum Martyrum Græce. A splendid manuscript on vellum, apparently about the end of the XIIIth or beginning of the XIVth Century, enriched with miniature paintings; some leaves are supplied by Ms. on paper of a more recent date.

647 Preces Piæ, Græce. An antient Greek Roll. Some of the prayers are from St. Basil.

648 Preces Piæ, Græce. An antient Greek Roll. The commencement damaged.

649 Gregorii Nazianzeni Opuscula Græce. Manuscript of the IXth Century, upon vellum. Mutilated and very imperfect, most of the leaves have become from injury of a purple hue.

 Had this manuscript been perfect, it would have been one of the most curious and valuable Greek Manuscripts ever brought into this country. It is written in the same characters, and probably by the same scribe as the celebrated manuscript of Euclid, in the Bodleian Library. In its present mutilated state, it is however an important manuscript for a scholar accustomed to examine antient Greek Manuscripts, may decypher the greater part.

650 Pentateuchus, Hebraice. Manuscript written upon African skins. A Roll measuring about 132 feet.

651 Garin le Loberans (ou le Lorain), Roman en Vers. Manuscript upon vellum, of the early part of the XIIIth Century, written in double columns.

 This Metrical Romance consists of about 29500 Verses. It has never been printed. Calmet in his History of Lorain, esteems it so curious and interesting, that he has given an account of it accompanied by specimens. Manuscripts of this Romance are extremely rare. The late Mr. Laing possessed one of a coeval or nearly coeval date. (See No. 861, of his Catalogue.) It wanted the first leaf. A very small piece of the first leaf of this copy is torn off, and parts of two leaves towards the latter end, and a very small piece on another leaf.

652 Dante, Divina Commedia, con Espositioni estratte del Commentarii del Boccaccio. A FINE MANUSCRIPT UPON VELLUM, of the latter end of the XIVth or the beginning of the XVth Century, yellow morocco.

653 Dante, Divina Commedia. An antient manuscript.

654 Chronique ou Histoire Generale. MANUSCRIPT OF THE XIVth CENTURY, UPON VELLUM.

655 Histoire et Chronique Generale. A VERY ANTIENT MANUSCRIPT.

656 Disputatio facta inter Ingetum Contardum Mercatorem Januensem et quosdam Sapientissimos Judæos in Synagoga Majoracii anno 1253. MANUSCRIPT, UPON VELLUM.

657 Raguagli della Compania de Bianchi de Pistoia l'anno 1399 e 1400, (an order instituted to endeavour to appease animosities, particularly those then raging between the Guelfs and Ghibelins), and 2 more MSS.

658 De Guerra Mossa da Selino Imperator de Turchi alla Venetia, la perdita di Cipro, e de la Gran Vittoria Navale li Turchi anno 1571. Manuscript.

659 Commentarius Nobilis Viri doctissimi Abu Amahusta Abubakis in Artem Poeticam Arabum, Arabice. MANUSCRIPT.

 A Note in this book written by "G. Strachan, 1608," says he bought this Manuscript at Babylon, and that it is a very valuable commentary.

660 Spiegazione e Note Storiche alla dedica delle Orazione di Cicerone fatta da N. Angeli a Monsignore Benassai l'anno 1515, et altre Memorie della Famiglia. Manuscript.

 This is a transcript of the original manuscript, with very considerable augmentations. The additions are incorporated and distinguished by being written in red ink. Some printed papers in continuation are added. In the course of this work some notice is made of the Aldine Press, but more considerable notice of the Junta Press occurs.

661 Relatione del Tumulto di Napoli principiate le 7 Juglio, 1647. Manuscript.

 Two whole length Portraits (Drawings) of the Fisherman Aniello or Massianello, who effected the Neapolitan Revolution, are prefixed.

662 Aristoteles de cura Rei Familiaris, Latine.—Albertus de Celo de Regimine Canis, Equi, Accipitris, Falconum, &c. et alia Opuscula. Manuscript, about the middle of the XVth Century.

Quarto.

663 Evangelia Quatuor, Græce. Manuscript of the XIIIth Century, upon vellum, illustrated with a series of Paintings.

 This is a Manuscript intrinsically very curious, but of extraordinary interest from the paintings which illustrate it. I do not believe there exists in England another manuscript of the same antiquity illustrated by a series of Paintings drawn from the Text of the Holy Evangelists. Here are paintings of the Annunciation, Presentation in the Temple, Baptism, Last Supper, Crucifixion, The Two Maries at the Sepulchre of our Saviour, (a very singular Painting where the tomb is represented upright in the shape of a mummy) and other paintings made from the Text of Scripture, with the portraits of the Four Evangelists. Many of the heads are painted with the beauty and delicacy of Miniatures.

664 Poema Theologicum, Græce. Manuscript, very imperfect.

 This appears to be the composition of a Disciple of the Platonic School. It is a very long Poem. The age of the Manuscript is about the middle of the XVth Century.

665 Opus Theologicum, Græce. A Collection of Devotional Pieces, Psalms, Hymn of Hezekiah, &c. in Greek, and dated 1439, imperfect at the beginning, and perhaps elsewhere.

666 A Volume lettered "ωερι παθων," it appears to be a Collection of Extracts from various authors.

End of Earl Guilford's Property.
